

Life's a Beach

Django Django

That how you want to play it
Break my heart and go home
Why'd you want to go do that, but we're not even in the waves

That how you want to sing it
Pop it out and let it flow
I think I've heard that song before it ends up as a book

Ahh...

That how you want to see it
The future's tellin' tall
Tunnel vision, never listen, no we're never growin' old

You're a good time killer
Might even end up on your own
Overlook at Acapulco playing paper, scissors, stone

You told the fortune teller
The crystal ball is gonna show
Uri Geller's gonna tell or bend the truth so I don't know

Sea has gotten something stirring
On the currents down below
There's a beach out of reach, pack it up so we can go

Crystal leaks start all over
Switch it up and overhaul
Step in line, get in time, speed it up until we fall

Paint a picture of a sunset
Scratch the writing on the wall
Roll the credits on your edit play it back then watch it all
