

So We Know

DMA's

Where you want to be, I feel nothing at all
Says she wants to start, now she's back on the horse

And I can't be certain that they're pulling the curtain on me
And if tomorrow's a burden, then I'm still learning to be

Lost you in a state that night, realised I can't get it right
'Til I change and you go and it rained, so we know
I can't keep up with losing now
Now I know what life's about now you're gone

Standing on the street, neon lights in my eyes
I'm chasing liberties, 'cause there's none in my life

And I can't be certain that they're pulling the curtain on me
And if tomorrow's a burden, then I'm still learning to be

Lost you in a state that night, realised I can't get it right
'Til I change and you go and it rained, so we know
I can't keep up with losing now
Now I know what life's about now you're gone

Now you're gone, now you're gone
Now you're gone, now you're gone
Now you're gone
Where you want to be, I feel nothing at all
