

Strangers

DMA's

Two shots from here, I can see that heaven's rising
And the stars and the moon in the night, I will arrange
And the only one that dared to catch the fire
Is the only one that's keepin' me insane, yeah

Well, I don't believe in strangers
And you lack a little restraint
And the more I fight, the less I will desire
And the less I give, the more I'll tend to take

Two steps from here, I can see that heaven's rising
On the stars and the moon in your night, I will rely

Well, I don't believe in strangers
And you lack a little restraint
And the more I fight, the less I will desire
And the less I give, the more I'll tend to drain

Don't recognise (Don't recognise)
Don't recognise (Don't recognise)
The ones that you leave behind
Don't recognise (Don't recognise)
Don't recognise (Don't recognise)
The ones that you leave behind
The ones that you leave behind

Well, I don't believe in strangers
And you lack a little restraint
And the more I fight, the less I will desire
And the less I give, the more I'll tend to take

Ooh, you know it's better in your own way
Ooh, you know it's better in your own way
Ooh, you know it's better in your own way
