

Shadows

Dodgy

You don't need evidence that I'm right
What do you find harder, day or night?
Looks like you're climbing through another day
You knew it would happen when she went away
When she went away

And you can pretend you know what to do
But I can see the shadows hanging over you

Does it get harder as you get older?
Is winter longer looking over your shoulder?
Is it easy to pretend that you know what to do?
Can you see the shadow too?

And you can pretend you know what to do
But I can see the shadows hanging over you

And you can't see when you are blind
To the cracks in your mind
Inside your mind

And as far as I can tell
You can't know heaven unless you know hell
Would days exist without the night?
You'll be the shadow without the light
Without the light

And you can pretend you know what to do
But I can see the shadows hanging over you
And you can pretend you know what to do
But I can see the shadows hanging over you

Hanging over you
Hanging over you
Hanging over you
