

Down

dodie

I woke up as heavy as lead
An ocean of worry weighs me down in bed

But there's things to do, there's a life to live
Must ignore my stupid head

Friends float above in the wind
Bright balloons pulling them up as they grin

But there's things to do, there's a life to live
Must ignore the things I think

Ooo000oooo00oh

It's like walking around with a stone for a heart
People swimming in honey as your life falls apart
It's cold and it's dark and there's no way out
I felt like you once, I wish I could shout

It's like walking around with a stone for a heart
People swimming in honey as your life falls apart
It's cold and it's dark and there's no way out
I felt like you once, I wish I could shout

You never can undo the brain
Now it knows of the holes, it will fall as it's trained

Cause there's things to do
There's a life to live
Watch them laugh
While you stay in, the rain
