

Now let's be clear, when did you stop?
I understand your lies but I've just been dropped
Insensitive, oh no
It's great to see how you show the world how
Happy you are without me

And every single bloody thing is a reminder in some way
Can my heart please stay intact for at least one day
But you don't have the patience to understand this

Look at us now, who even are you?
It's funny how you said this is not what you wanted to do
Have you changed or is this who you were all along?
Well, you can fool the others, but me I'm standing strong

And every single bloody thing is a reminder in some way
Can my heart please stay intact for at least one day
But you don't have the patience to understand this

And I'll never hear you say those words
I miss the you you said you were
And I'll tell them all and I tell myself
That I hate you, I do, I swear it's true... no
How on earth can I
I didn't even say goodbye

And every single bloody thing is a reminder in some way
Can my heart please stay intact for at least one day
But you don't have the patience to understand this
