

Four Tequilas Down

dodie

It's 5 a.m. when you close the door
I don't know who I am anymore
And tell me, did you make your eyes blur?
So that in the dark I'd look like her

Four tequilas down
Who gives a shit if we're messing around
They'll never know, they'll never know
So just hold me like you mean it
We'll pretend, because we need it

Who knew I could be so brave?
Though I know it shouldn't be this way
And it's wrong, more wrong, the deeper I sink
Oh kiss me, before I start to think

Oh four tequilas down
Who gives a shit if we're messing around
They'll never know, they'll never know
So just hold me like you mean it
We'll pretend, because we need it

Something in me says that this is okay
Something in me says that this is okay
Something in me says that this is okay
Something in me says that this is okay
Who the hell am I?
I know this isn't right

Four tequilas down
Who gives a shit if we're messing around
She'll never know, she'll never know
So just hold me like you mean it
We'll pretend, because we need it
