

Lonely Bones

dodie

Oh, another day, another sunset
The walls watch my thighs intertwine for the secondteenth time,
oh
Lonely bones
Have you forgotten?

Add another glass to the stale row
The authors look down as I shrug with their capital smug, oh
Lonely bones
Have you forgotten?

In the grand scheme (Tell her it won't really matter)
Got a plan, see (Better it won't really hit her)
Oh, lonely bones
Wait for me

Over the bridge to midnight
Friends sleep oblivious and thick, something's making me sick,
oh
Lonely bones
Have you forgotten?

Add another night to the stale row
Seem to be dangerously close
Might abandon the host, oh
Lonely bones
Have you forgotten?

Oh, in the grand scheme (Tell her it won't really matter)
Got a plan, see (Better it won't really hit her)
Oh, lonely bones
Wait for me

La-la-la, la-la-la, la-la-la-la-la-la-la, la-la-la-la
Lonely bones
Have you forgotten?

La-la-la, la-la-la, la-la-la-la-la-la-la, la-la-la-la
Lonely bones
Have you forgotten?

Oh, in the grand scheme
I've got a plan, see
Oh, lonely bones
