

The End

dodie

There's a weight on the track
That's the sign, no turning back
Will you stay for a wave and then go fast?
It's a death, it's the end
I'll never see you like this again
What if this is a line just like the last time?

Oh, mad now, I don't know what that's about, lemme figure it out
Are you seeing this? Aren't you scared? Don't you know what this means?

Swallow air, someone laugh
So aware this is the past now
We'll forget all the depth, we won't know
And our world, you and I
We will ask each other why
Did we love for so long?

Oh, mad now, I don't know what that's about, lemme figure it out
Are you seeing this?
Aren't you scared?
Don't you know?

How can you choose to let it go?
I will not lose another home

Oh, if this is the end, I don't want it
I will fight with every breath till there's nothing left
I know that this is the deal but if I'm honest
I will cheat, let me go again, let me go again

It's a death, it's the end, I'll never see you like this again

My brain is the biggest thing I know
This feels too big for it to hold
My brain is the biggest thing I know
This feels too big for it to hold
Oh, if this is the end, I don't want it
I will fight with every breath till there's nothing left
Oh, if this is the end, I don't want it
I will fight with every breath till there's nothing left
Oh, mad now, I don't know what that's about, lemme figure it out
Are you seeing this?
Aren't you scared?
Don't you know what this means?

My brain is the biggest thing I know
This feels too big for it to hold
My brain is the biggest thing I know
This feels too big for it to hold
