

You're Just A Dream

dodie

I find myself thinking about you all the time
You've got long hair and slender fingers
A bright smile and a scent that lingers
In my clothes, and in my mind
It's almost like you've been designed for me
Because you have

I'm falling in love with someone who
Doesn't exist
You're certainly my dream guy, cause
That's all you are
You're just a dream

You kiss me once more not on but in my head
You walk by my side but leave no mark of where you tread
Maybe you smile at me and hold my hand
I don't expect anyone else to understand

I'm falling in love with someone who
Doesn't exist
You're certainly my dream guy, cause
That's all you are
You're just a dream

And if I close my eyes
I can almost hear you call my name
And if I do find love
How could it ever be the same

I find myself thinking about you all the time

I'm falling in love with someone who
Doesn't exist
You're certainly my dream guy, cause
That's all you are
You're just a dream
