

Matt Aragon

Dogwood

Deep inside I tried to find a purpose for me no surprise.
I've pushed myself away.
Sometimes I refuse to think and sometimes I just need a break.
Leave myself a lone today.
Sit and drink the air.
And stop to let out all the hurt.
Collapse inside your arms.
I never want to let this go.
I'm not in tune with anything.
If I go on like this I'll scream 'til I go mute.
And people who cant speak don't have to answer for themselves.
I'll scream this one for you.
I know what failure is.
I understood it all along.
Salvation was a gift,
but someone wrapped it wrong....so wrong.
Life has a funny way of leading you on,
letting you down.
Deep inside I try to find a purpose for me no surprise.
Please leave me alone.