

Trailer Full of Tragedies

Dogwood

The apartment is empty, the pictures have left their marks on the wall

Nothing has ever taken so long

Moving away, a new horizon to look at each day

And I'll try not to hold on

You practice your packing, the trailer is crammed with memories, dear

Only the highway bears your pain

Count your blessings, let the future now outweigh the past

And why would you look back?

Live life perfect, I admire the strength that you both have

I pray for you

Timing, everything, all that you have, everyone loves you

And we too

Memories trail behind, start out new

And find the people who waited for you

Timing, everything, all that you have, everyone loves you

And we too

Live life perfect I admire the strength that you both have

I pray for you

Trailers full of victories and tragedies

New memories

Live life perfect I admire the strength that you both have

I pray for you

Timing, everything all that you have, everyone loves you

And we too and we too and we too
