

Here I Stand

Dokken

I will rise up - over this 'till I come to a higher place I will find strength - let go of all the ties to my disgrace

I'm no more - and no less than anyone else
looking for a new horizon
I can find in myself

(It's all right) the shadow's gone
(shine your light) with the risin' sun
(It's all right) take me as I am
(yeah yeah yeah) cause here I stand

No hesitation - holdin' back I'll take each step one by one but I might fall - I could stray If I loose my eye's today

I'm only one in a crowd I'm just one voice on the line
looking for a new horizon
another place another time

(It's all right) the shadow's gone
(shine your light) with the risin' sun
(It's all right) take me as I am
(yeah yeah yeah) cause here I stand

In our hands a light shines we still wonder change our world into sand we will hunger like a child -fears the night-draws near its mother like a son -fears no one-will cast our shadow forever
'cause here I stand
