

Rainbows

Dokken

Your fortunes fall upon you like snowflakes falling
You live within your castle lookin' down below
Your sadness everyone can see
You hide your madness so no one sees

Rainbows hiding in the clouds
Afraid to show you that the sun still shines
A pointed needle you can't escape
You float upon a bed of dreams you can't erase
Your sadness everyone can see
You hide your madness so no one sees

Rainbows hiding in the clouds
Afraid to show you that the sun still shines
Rainbows hiding in the clouds
Afraid to show you that the sun still shines

Can you see the rainbows in your poisoned vial
Can you feel the golden flakes
Falling on your shroud
Falling on your shroud
