

Step Into The Light

Dokken

I couldn't see the shadows hiding in your eyes
I couldn't see the pain behind the lines
I tried to give you love, you pushed me away
And now the day is gone, nothin' left to say

Our time has gone, the stars are far behind us
And all I know, I did my best to love you

Can you see the sun is shinin'?
Can you feel that my soul is cryin'?
That my soul is cryin'
Baby, all you need
To step into the light

Step into the light
Feel the warmth that lives inside you
Step into the light
You can find a way

If only I could hold you
Maybe I could show you
How to step, step into the light

If only I could hold you
Maybe I could show you
How to step, step into the light

If only I could hold you
Maybe I could show you
How to step, step into the light
