Still Me

oney up

Dom Kennedy

Making sure my momma's straight, tryna leave my son enough I know the Lord protecting me, but I don't keep my gun enough They used to look down on me, don't look now I'm coming up I used to wanna run with her, now them hoes is runnin up You live on crenshaw huh? that just make you one of us I don't need a lot of beats, I just make sure one enough The westside is back again when niggas thought we done enough I rep that david blake cause you'll forever be a legend O'shea gon' be the first so I'll forever be the second Who rep leimert park? is something you ain't gotta question They like Dom grown up better than we expected You can sit up on my shoulders I'll always hold you down I done been from here across from here across the water, but I still rep my town Nigga I'm still me, nigga I'm still me, nigga I'm still me nigg a I'm still me And I vow to never play you, promise that I'll make you proud I'm still the most reliable still the most waited on Still the most looked over still the most hated on Power 106 without a manager I made it on Still seeing girls in your video I dated on It's still who rollin' with me still got the same Still eat at earl's grill still got the same whip Still drinkin' hennessy still got the same bitch Still got the '22 still got the same Still love hip-hop still got the same gift And every time I see her I swear I get the same kiss Still play that old nas still play that old 'cris Still play that same jay still got that same lisp Still sell my own shit still got the same flip Still my own boss too still got the same split Still fuck with cartier still got the same clique Still playing every night still got the same wish Still sit and reminisce still got the same flicks Still think about alex still miss my nigga nick Still ain't a millionaire still never save enough Still got my fitted on still never gave a fuck Still know my old shit still wasn't played enough Still gon' give it back to all the kids when I'm payed enough I give my james yancey on the raise it up Welcome to the future though y'all niggas late enough

I'm driving down the boulevard of broken dreams, tryna get my m