

Thousand Faces

Don Diablo

There's a thousand faces but you're not around
Would I make, would I make you proud if you could see me now

I still remember when I was young
I'd sit in the backseat while you played your songs
Some days when I'm lonely, I still put them on
And there in those moments, it's like you're not gone

I've come so far but once in a while it breaks me
I tried twice as hard to be half the man you made me

There's a thousand faces but you're not around
Would I make, would I make you proud if you could see me now
There's a thousand voices in an endless crowd
But I'd give it away, it away if it meant I could see you now

If it meant I could see you now
(If it meant I could see you now, see you now)

And pictures can't capture the light in your eyes
Even there at your lowest, you could still make me smile
You fought like a lion and you loved til the end
And I have you to thank for the person I am

I've come so far but once in a while it breaks me
I tried twice as hard to be half the man you made me

There's a thousand faces but you're not around
Would I make, would I make you proud if you could see me now
There's a thousand voices in an endless crowd
But I'd give it away, it away if it meant I could see you now

If it meant I could see you now
(If it meant I could see you now, see you now)
If it meant I could see you now

There's a thousand faces but you're not around
Would I make, would I make you proud if you could see me now
There's a thousand voices in an endless crowd
But I'd give it away, it away if it meant I could see you now
