

Lullaby

Don Francisco

Darkness covers all the land -- sounds of day are gone;
But love is all around you now and will be 'till the dawn

Stars shine on the window sill, the moon shines through
the trees;
Angels by your bed tonight -- shine where no one sees.

So there's no need to be afraid all the whole night through
'Cause God has made a promise child, that He'll take care of you.

Stars shine on the window sill, the moon shines through
the trees;
Angels by your bed tonight -- shine where no one sees.

All that you've been dreamin' of awaits you when you rise;
So with the peace that Jesus brings close your sleepy eyes.

Stars shine on the window sill, the moon shines through
the trees;
Angels by your bed tonight -- shine where no one sees.
