

(I'll Let My Heart Break) For a Little While

Don Gibson

I'll let my heart break for a little while
Who cares if it aches for a little while
I'll hold you so close for a little while
And then I'll go my way and forget

I know that it's wrong I shouldn't do this to you
I know that it's wrong I shouldn't make you blue
But I'll let my heart break for a little while
Then I'll go my way and forget

Honey I'll let my heart break for a little while
And who cares if it aches for just a little while
And I'll hold you oh so close for a little while
And then I'll go I'll go my way and forget

Oh, I know that it's wrong I shouldn't do this to you
I know that it's wrong I shouldn't make you blue
But I'll let my heart break for a little while
Then I'll go my way and forget
About you
