

The Way You Catch the Light

Donavon Frankenreiter

Well, it's more than just the way you smile
Or the love that's in your eyes
Or the way that every head turns 'round
And time just stops, when you walk by

Well, it's more than just the way you laugh
Or the music of your voice
When you whisper into my ear
I can't resist, I got no choice

There's something about you
You're like a diamond when you catch the light
Sparks fly in the room
The way you catch the light

Well, it's more than I can put into words
And it's more than I can define
Like a star wandering low one night
Baby you know I've been trying to reach you a long, long time

There's something about you
You're like a diamond when you catch the light
Sparks fly in the room
The way you catch the light

I don't know how you do it
But you turn it on and take me every
Time
I don't know how you do it
Whether you can help it when you
Shine

Well, it's more than just the way you smile
Or the love that's in your eyes
Or the way that every head turns 'round
My heart just stops, as you walk by

There's something about you
You're like a diamond when you catch the light
Sparks fly in the room
The way you catch the light, alright

There's something about you
You're like a diamond when you catch the light
Sparks fly in the room
The way you catch the light
The way you catch the light
The way you catch the

Something about you
Something about you
Something about you

You're like a diamond, babe (Something about you)
Awe, you're like a diamond, babe (Something about you)
The way you catch the light (Something about you)
The way you catch the light (Something about you)
