

Imagine That

Donell Jones

Wassup baby!
Oh you can't say wassup back?
Anyway I see you finally made it home.
Yea, yea, yea I know
Oh you was too drunk to drive huh
Damn right I got a problem
Its all good, trust me its all good

Imagine that your girl came home
Walking a little different
Got a pep in her step
She ain't paying you no attention,
She hits the shower first, (shower first)
But she don't mention she is washing
Out off that dirt she that got in
Imagine if your girl was home
(And you get off work early)
She don't even know cause she won't answer the phone
But you sense something is up
And barge through your front door
But there is a fellow running out your back door

What would you do?
Cause shawty playing games with you
While you at work
She been hitting you were it hurts
Got a couple dudes on her team
But you don't know
In your home she's always on the go
What would you do?
Would you give a second chance
Hoping that it wont happen again
Now flip that around, you know that's what we do
We tell them that we love them, but our hearts ain't true

Imagine if she crushed dudes like you crushed chics
(imagine that)
Have a starting five and your position was the bench
(imagine that)
Busy when you call, don't return your messages
(imagine that)
Ball till she fall while you taking care of the kids
(imagine that)
Imagine if she don't wanna tell you where she been
(imagine that)
Said she hanging with her girls but she hanging out with him
(imagine that)
Imagine if everything that I said ain't true
She home alone waiting while you doing you

Imagine you were on the road
And she call you and she say that she pregnant
You ask how many months, she don't know yet
But you think to yourself its been a month since you been gone
Whose been sneaking in when you're not at home
Imagine now you all alone
Cause she took off with the other dude,

Left the dog and the kids too
Shawty left a letter on the couch
Saying you can have the house
She's in love with him and they're moving down south

What would you do?
Cause shawty playing games with you
While you at work
She been hitting you were it hurts
Left you for another dude that's gotta hurt
When you know you really don't deserve it
What would you do?
Cause the kids don't understand
That their mother left you for another men
Flip that around, you know that's what we do
We tell them that we love them, but our hearts ain't true

Imagine if she crushed dudes like you crushed chics
(imagine that)
Have a starting five and your position was the bench
(imagine that)
Busy when you call, don't return your messages
(imagine that)
Ball till she fall while you taking care of the kids
(imagine that)
Imagine if she don't wanna tell you where she been
(imagine that)
Said she hanging with her girls but she hanging out with him
(imagine that)
Imagine if everything that I said ain't true
She home alone waiting for you

You know put yourself in her shoes,
You gotta learn to treat her right, right.
He gotta treat you right babe
Imagine that, can you imagine that Cause you know what I'm talking about

Imagine if she crushed dudes like you crushed chics
(imagine that)
Have a starting five and your position was the bench
(imagine that)
Busy when you call, don't return your messages
(imagine that)
Ball till she fall while you taking care of the kids
(imagine that)
Imagine if she don't wanna tell you where she been
Said she hanging with her girls but she hanging out with him
You don't want to imagine that
Imagine that
Ya'll don't wanna imagine that
