

It Should Have Been Easy

Donna Fargo

Every morning when I get up
I see your face in my coffee cup
Looking back at me
Looking back at me

Another morning, another day
Still I'm feeling the same old way
I'm still missing you
Missing you

It should have been easy
It should have been easy
It should have been oh so easy to do
But I'm still getting over you

I keep seeing old friends of mine
They all smile and they say in time
I'll get over you, yeah
I'll be good as new

I guess somehow some day I will
I'll forget you I know but still
It'll take some time
It's gonna take some time

It should have been easy
It should have been easy
It should have been oh so easy to do
But I'm still getting over you

It should have been easy
It should have been easy
It should have been oh so easy to do
But I'm still getting over you
