

(to me) your face is love

Donna Missal

To me your face is love
Descending from above
I'm naked in my longing
Reach for your touch

Oh, and do you know?
Just how precious you are
I'll never try to own you
Hold ever close

You're beautiful
You're an angel in the dark
I'd give all earthly possessions
To keep you in my heart

You're symphonic
You're the melody I want
You're the song that haunts my memory
I need, I need your love

To me, your face is love
And I am overcome
I'm gasping for your presence
Breath from my lungs

And I am standing still
All time bends to your will
There's nothing here before you
And nothing until

You're beautiful
You're an angel in the dark
I'd give all earthly possessions
To keep you in my heart

You're symphonic
You're the melody I love
You're the song that haunts my memory
I need, I need your love

Don't cry for me love
When I run to your arms
No space no god can own
Knowing you're not alone
I know I'm not alone

You're beautiful
You're an angel in the dark
I'd give all earthly possessions
To keep you in my heart

You're symphonic
You're the melody I love
You're the song that haunts my memory
I need, I need your love
