

Start Again

Donny Osmond

You know life's not always simple
You stumble and fall
And things don't always work out
And you feel small
And when the night goes on forever
And you're looking for a ray of hope
When there seems to be no answer
Believe me, I know

It is never, never, never
Never too late to start again
No, it's never, never, never
Never too late to find your way
So keep your head up and keep your heart strong
Just remember you're not on your own
'Cause it's never, never, never
Never too late to start again
And again

I've made it through the fire
My scars are who I am
And when you're walking through the valley
Just hold my hand

It is never, never, never
Never too late to start again
No, it's never, never, never
Never too late to find your way
So keep your head up and keep your heart strong
Just remember you're not on your own
'Cause it's never, never, never
Never too late to start again
Start again

Life's not always simple
'Cause you stumbled and crawled
But things will always work out
You see, I've been there
Yes, I've been there before

It's never, never, never
Never too late to start again
No, it's never, never, never
Never too late to find your way
So keep your head up and keep your heart strong
Just remember you're not on your own
Just keep believing and keep on fighting
Don't give up or give in, carry on
'Cause it's never, never, never
Never too late to start again
You gotta start again
Start again
