

I Don't Belong To You

Donovan Woods

Pretendin' beauty, like it don't exist
[?] truthful kiss
You wake up Spanish, sayin' all their names
You fake an accent to cover the shame
And the absolutism of those who sleep
And the Who-Is-Who-ism is the bit you keep

And I don't belong to you
You don't belong to me, no
Oh honey, no
I don't belong to you
You don't belong to me, no
Oh honey, no

I see a beach when we both were young
The undulations, the summer sun
You would watch me, I won't forget
I never looked up when your hair got wet
Place is empty now, it's been written off
It's funny your love's got me feelin' tough

And I don't belong to you
You don't belong to me, no
Oh honey, no
I don't belong to you
You don't belong to me, no
Oh honey, no

Satisfaction of bein' right
Casts a feelin' on this moonlit night
I know I said stuff, it keeps me awake
You never offered your heart to break
There's no sacrifice [?]
Every breath we take gives us away

And I don't belong to you
You don't belong to me, no
Oh honey, no
I don't belong to you
You don't belong to me, no
Oh honey, no

Honey, oh
Honey, oh
Honey, oh
Honey, oh
