

Hey Little Baby

Dope Lemon

She said she don't like the rock & roll life
She says I drink too much, go to bed too late
She said I got no time for her anymore (Ahh)
Sit around too long, strumming my guitar
Telling her things I've never told her before
Guess it's just all I know, baby girl

Let's go on holidays
Ohhh, let's forget all the things we say
Maybe get an old, old car
Drive around the winding road
By the blue, blue sea
We can start life in an old library
Read some books
Just you and me, just you and me
Talking about where we gonna eat for supper time
Super feeling fine
Ohhh, sweet, sweet, sweetie love of mine

Let's ride away on a wagon to the sunshine
(Baby, little baby, everything goin' be alright)
With the smoke in my hand, and her feeling fine
(Baby, little baby, everything goin' be alright)
Ohh, leave this, leave this whole world behind
(Baby, little baby, everything goin' be alright)
It all sounds pretty peachy to me, it sounds pretty fine
(Baby, little baby, everything goin' be alright)

Ohhh, you can live in a dream
Or you can live here, right now
Ohhh, I'm gonna sleep and I'm, I'm gonna dream away
Hello, how's your day?
Seems it's just the way the world's spinning 'round
If you get caught in the storm
Sometimes you don't make it home
We can pretend for a little while Sing, goin' on

She tell me she don't like the rock & roll lifestyle anymore
Ohhh she says I stay up too late
Ohhh strumming my guitar for the world
Telling her things, telling her things I never told her before
Ohhh, everything goin' be alright, baby girl
Hmrrrrrrrr, I just wanna see you
Hmrrrrrrrr, smiling, girl
Hmrrrrrrrr, I just wanna see you
Hmrrrrrrrr, sitting upon the hill

Baby, little baby
Everything goin' be alright
Baby, little baby
Everything goin' be alright
Baby, little baby
Everything goin' be alright
Baby, little baby
