

Opening

Dora Jar

Butterfly

At least I was in another life
And I don't really wanna pick a side
I wonder why (oh why)
Time goes by

Traveling, I'm trying to find a way
Unraveling the reasons I would stay, ahh ooh

Do you really wanna know
Where I go when I see an opening?
With your money in a row
I go boom when the portal's closing
Do you really wanna know
Where I go when I see an opening?
If you're ready come along
I'm gonna leave the station

Delicate

But I wanna give it to you, can you handle it?
Big heart, little flame
Keep the candle lit

Marigold on fire in the sky
Low and behold a choir sings goodbye, ahh

Do you really wanna know
Where I go when I see an opening?
With your money in a row
I go boom when the portal's closing
Do you really wanna know
Where I go when I see an opening?
If you're ready come along
I'm gonna leave the station
Do you really wanna know
Where I go when I see an opening?
With your money in a row
I go boom when the portal's closing
Do you really wanna know
Where I go when I see an opening?
If you're ready come along
I'm gonna leave the station
