Dora Jar

Who am I?...

Don't stop, jackpot, blackout, float down
Keep on going like a bubble in a bong
Don't trip on the cord, this is NYC, step on out
Take me uptown, Westside, Brooklyn, Queens
I'm squeezing through the pipes when the nights are cold out
Put my foot down, gas pedal

Wonder, wonder, who am I? I, I, I-I
I, I, I, I-I

Don't stop twinkling, red light blinking
Break my mood ring, friendship sinking
Keep on going like a worm in the dirt, don't give up now
Take me downtown, Seaport, Ludlow, Greenpoint
Biking on the bridge when I'm buzzed off one joint
Put my head down, back to work

Wonder, wonder, who am I? I, I, I-I
I, I, I, I-I

I'm zooming out to find my mind is kind of like
A blurry stranger on the concrete
And if I stop to say, "Hello, how is your day?"
I might begin to see it clearly, yeah

I-I-I, I-I-I
I-I-I
I, I, I, I-I
