

Oh What a Beautiful Dream

Doris Day

Stardust started falling
You should have seen the moon
The moon was like a red balloon
There were clouds of pink ice cream
What a beautiful dream

We landed on a building a thousand stories high
We sat and watched the world roll by
Baby stars were all a gleam
What a beautiful dream

The world seemed empty of people
The air so pure and clean
It was the most fantastic place I've ever seen
I know I heard a choir and distant church bells chime

The bells were ringing all the time
Wedding cake and pink ice cream
What a beautiful dream

I know I heard a choir and distant church bells chime
The bells were ringing all the time
Wedding cake and pink ice cream
What a beautiful dream

Oh what a beautiful dream
Have some pink ice cream
