

I Had Too Much To Dream

Doro

Last night your shadow
Fell upon my lonely dream
There's something in the air
I knew it wasn't real
The night was filled with love
The way it used to be
And then your hand reached out
To comfort me
Came the dawn
You were gone
You were gone, gone, gone

I had too much to dream last night
Too much to dream
I'm not ready to face the light
I had too much to dream
Last night
Last night

The room stood still and I
Can feel the words you said
And I still see your image
Racin' through my head
You touched my heart and I
Could feel your tenderness
You seemed so real just when
You held out your hand

Came the dawn
You were gone
You were gone, gone, gone

I had too much to dream last night
Too much to dream
I'm not ready to face the light
I had too much to dream
Last night
Last night!
Had too much to dream!

I had too much to dream last night
Too much to dream
I'm not ready to face the light
I had too much to dream
Last night
Last night
Had too much to dream

I had too much to dream last night
Too much to dream
I'm not ready to face the light
Last night
Last night - oh!
I had too much to dream
Too much, too much, too much to dream!

O-oh o-oh
