

Mountain

Dorothy

Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain
Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain

I wanna make her heal
She'd try but she can't feel
Even when we're holding hands in the pouring rain, yeah
I know she won't come out
Every time she turns me down
What, I can't make her feel safe

Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain
Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain

When it's time for her to go
She doesn't pick up the telephone
So I remain on the other side
I know she's just afraid
The damage took her heart away
Can't love herself, how could I?

Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain
Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain

She goes running through the wild
Calling out to get you, only to forget you
Yeah, yeah
But all she wanted was sunshine

Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain
Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain

Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain
Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain

Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain
Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain

Hey now, now, sleeping under a mountain
Hey mountain, hey mountain
