

Softness

Dorothy

Softness fell open, something touched
Became a dream
Softness fell open, spilling tears
And I spin

Softness
Softness
Softness
Softness

Do you see now how it was?
Do you understand?
Do you see how sad it was?
Holding your hand

Softness
Softness
Softness
Softness

Time extends to simple curve and thoughtful in a way
And I extend my hand to you with nothing more to say

Softness
Softness
Softness
Softness

Do you care now how it was?
Do you understand?
Do you care how sad it was?
Forcing you to stand

Softness
Softness
Softness
Softness

Softness
Softness
Softness
Softness
