

Letting Go

Dotan

Wars

No I can't win them all
Oh my darling
What are we fighting for
Stolen
By a love that is forced
Like an ocean
I was washed to the shore

You call out
Like echoes in the storm
They fade
Into the great unknown
High hopes
It's like I'm too afraid to come down

And then I start to feel
The walls as they crumble and fall
And the darkness that I know
Has a spark and a glow
Now I'm reaching out with arms
That are learning to grow
And I'm finally letting go

Far from the world that I made
I keep running from the lies
That would drive me insane
I was always holding on
To the anger and pain
But I'm finally letting go

Days

I've been locked in my thoughts
I keep swimming
Against waves of support
Darling
I don't know where you've gone
But my shoulders
Now they're steady and strong

And then I start to feel
The walls as they crumble and fall
And the darkness that I know
Has a spark and a glow
Now I'm reaching out with arms
That are learning to grow

Far from the world that I made
I keep running from the lies
That would drive me insane
To the anger and pain

I'm finally letting go

You call out
They fade
High hopes
It's like I'm too afraid to come down

And then I start to feel
The walls as they crumble and fall
And the darkness that I know
Has a spark and a glow

Far from the world that I made
That would drive me insane
To the anger and pain
But I'm finally letting go...
