

Mexico

Dotan

Wait, till the morning sun
Oh it's 2am and I don't even know where we belong
I stay till the fear is gone
Just hoping you see me like in that restaurant

Can you be my bones
Can you be my bones in life again
Oh I just need your skin
Wake me from the cold
Wake me from the cold to love again
I want to love again

Drive me to Mexico
It feels like a dream I have but I don't really know
We talk like an endless road
But when we fall asleep we always feel alone

Can you be my bones
Can you be my bones in life again
Oh I just need your skin
Wake me from the cold
Wake me from the cold to love again
I want to love again

Back on that same old street
How I wish you could be close like in a memory
We dive in the deepest sea
I will swim until I feel your body next to me

Can you be my bones
Can you be my bones in life again
Oh I just need your skin
Wake me from the cold
Wake me from the cold to love again
I want to love again
