

There Will Be a Way

Dotan

I wore my heart paper thin
Felt these walls crumbling
Always questioning the high
Never felt quite right
I'm reaching out like a satellite
I lost myself into the night
Chasing sorry with goodbye
Why do good things die

Running from all of the thoughts in my head
I'm fighting my way to the end

Underneath the cold
Underneath the rain
There will be a way
There will be a way
There will be a way
Just another storm
Just another flame
That will be the day
That will be the day
That will be the day
Like ohhh
Cause all I wanna hear is
Let me go
Meet me on the other side
Underneath the cold
Underneath the rain
There will be a way
There will be a way

My demons trapped inside my mind
Growing wild in their demise
Always dancing with the end
Like a long lost friend
Holding my breath till my lungs burn bright
Finding myself in the light
Feeling comfort in the pain
Like I'm alive again

Underneath the cold
Underneath the rain
There will be a way
There will be a way
There will be a way
Just another storm
Just another flame
That will be the day
That will be the day
That will be the day
Like ohhh
Let me go
Meet me on the other side
Underneath the cold
Underneath the rain
There will be a way

There will be a way

There will be a way

Running from all of the thoughts in my head
Fighting my way to the end
'Cause I can't forget
That I'm alive again

Underneath the cold
Underneath the rain
There will be a way
There will be a way
There will be a way
Just another storm
Just another flame
That will be the day
That will be the day
That will be the day
Like ohhh
Cause all I wanna hear is
Let me go
Meet me on the other side
Underneath the cold
Underneath the rain
There will be a way
There will be a way

(There will be a way)
There will be a way
(There will be a way)
There will be a way
Underneath the cold
Underneath the rain (There will be a way)
There will be a way
(There will be a way)
