All The World Is Lonely Now

Dottie West

Yesterday you said you love me Today you say it's over now Why did you go away and leave me? All the world is lonely now

I tried so hard to make you happy With love your heart would not allow It's hard to know you'll never love me All the world is lonely now

Goodbye, good luck, and may God bless you I'm tired to get along somehow I know I'll never love another All the world is lonely now All the world is lonely now
