

Eternally You

Dougie MacLean

I wish that you could see us
Oh it would cheer your weary heart
Oh look what's been done
We've torn the whole damn thing apart
And I wish that we could tell you
It didn't have to be so sad
And look what's become
Of the tragic life you had

CHORUS

And now it's all eternally you
Now it's all eternally you

He didn't want to leave you
But a young man must be brave
Oh and people will talk
And they would rather sin than save
But oh your little bright one
He has made his way alone
The seed of your heart
Into a forest grown

CHORUS

Stand on the shore smother the shame
You can do nothing more
The tears in you eyes washed by the rain
What was the sacrifice for?

So final in acceptance
In Kilbrennan's sunset night
But an old woman dreams
She would rather feel than fight
I wish that you could see us
It would cheer your weary heart
Look what's been done
We've torn the whole damn thing apart
