

Amsterdam

Douwe Bob

Oh, I turned it inside out
Tried to read it upside down
Even told myself I got it for a while

And I traveled far and wide
Thought I was happy from time to time
But only thoughts of you, they really made me smile

Life is sweet
Now I found that all I need
Are the roses on the rooftops
And the people in the street
Life is real
Now I feel the way I feel
As if someone finally listened
And understands
Amsterdam

Oh, I was stubborn, I was young
So much I was hiding from
Put the blame on everybody but myself

And I tried to get away
While it stared me in the face
If I'd known what I know now I would've never said farewell

Life is sweet
Now I found that all I need
Are the roses on the rooftops
And the people in the street
Life is real
Now I feel the way I feel
As if someone finally listened
And understands
Amsterdam

Life is sweet
Now I found that all I need
Are the roses on the rooftops
And the people in the street
Life is real
Now I feel the way I feel
As if someone finally listened
And understands
Amsterdam
Oh, Amsterdam
Amsterdam
