

Return Back From Ignorance

Down Below

Too many borders too many lines too many orders too much is defined come on let us kill your ego understand to forgive it's time to forget that's why we live, stand up from the dead...

Because this is the essence of pain if you want back to the roots again then you have to live the same.

Come on let us kill your ego if you want the end of pain.

Listen you are dead if there is no chance to survive if you don't change the mind in your head.

The ignorance of life brings us to living dead the ignorance of consequences will be your last breath.

The ignorance of love the ignorance of pain the ignorance of violence let us die again.
