

Here once again in this solitary room
Watching the clocks spin around
And my thoughts could fill the room (Room)
You can't make some things happen
You've got a will but there's no way
There's this number in my pocket
I think that's where it's gonna stay (Stay)
I seem to be the last one left
Seems to me the feeling has left
And I can't find it again

You say it isn't wrong, you don't wanna get burned
You've got a line a mile long and they're waiting their turn
And one day you'll find you're wasting time
You'll be tired of being alone like I am

I wanna feel alive, I wanna feel real, I just wanna feel
And I know she means what she says
But I still question what she conceals
'Cause I can write a goddamn book
Of all the things that I've mistook
I'm gonna need help to do this again
So fill me up 'til I tell you when

You say it isn't wrong, you don't wanna get burned
You've got a line a mile long and they're waiting their turn
And one day you'll find you're wasting time
You'll be tired of being alone like I am

I can't fall with you, I can't fall with you
I can't fall with you, I can't fall with you
I can't fall with you, it happens once, and it happened once

You say it isn't wrong, you don't wanna get burned
You've got a line a mile long and they're waiting their turn
And one day you'll find you're wasting time
You'll be tired of being alone like I am
