

Time Warp

Downplay

This is the first time
Back to where I was the last time it felt like me
Once in a lifetime
Shown this side and now it's this memory
A memory like fire
That burns when you get too close and I know 'cause it burned me
And it's inviting
Giving off this warmth until you've crossed the boundary

Time warp
Whenever I see this place, it takes me there again (takes me there again)
I'm so sure
Soon enough it's gonna be calling me back again (calling me back again)

Just let it go
No one needs to know how it feels inside of my head this time
Nothing to show
It's easy enough to hide behind this lying face where everything is fine

Time warp
Whenever I see this place, it takes me there again (takes me there again)
I'm so sure
Soon enough it's gonna be calling me back again (calling me back again)
Time warp
Whenever I see her face, it takes me there again, (takes me there again)
I'm so sure
Soon enough it's gonna be calling me back again, (calling me back again)

Not all you see
Is what you should believe
(And it's hard to forget when your eyes deceive)
Not all you see
Is what you should believe
(And it's hard to forget when your eyes deceive)
Not all you see
Is what you should believe
(And it's hard to forget when your eyes deceive)
Not all you see
Is what you should believe
(And it's hard to forget when your eyes deceive)
