Your power!
Your power!
Your life!
Keep shining!
Keep shining!
I said shine
Shine strong

Your power!

Welcome you still got a chance I ride beside you when they say that you can't Half a life ain't right So get pumped up and command your own fight

If we do anything
Let us not resend
Confirm all that's necessary
And apply what you believe

Your power! Your power! Your power! Your life!

Just when you think it's all falling apart
Treachery broke you blew them way off the charts
Anything is possible avail from remains
Serpents corrode you're ahead of the game
Stay in the zone deliver and focus
Meditations of kings and queens stay potent
Strictly maintain and you will receive
The highest reward in your moment of need

Embracing the quiet solitude
The warmth and endearment
Pleasant integrity emanates
From the things that you hold dearest
A careless approach to everything
That will ever really matter
Can only lead to apathy
And leave our loved ones shattered

So many moments by yourself
That you could only understand
The confidence in your future
Is what you have in your hands
In the privacy of your own mind you defeat
All of your complications
Your decision to fight and overcome
All your expectations

Keep shining!
Keep shining!
Shine strong

You're more valuable than billions of gold gems

'Cause only you realize your success and what you bled But most specific standing prepared The meaning of life when no one is there

Your power! Your power! Your power! Your life!

Your game!
