

Because You're Mine

Dr. Feelgood

Ever since the day i met you baby
I'll believe i had a hold on you
Any where you go
I'll be watching over everything that you do
I ain't lying i say you can't leave me

'cause you're mine

Know it's gonna last forever baby
I'll believe that we will never part
Everything i said
You can't forget because it's written on your heart
Each and every time your heart beats you remember

That you're mine

Doesn't matter where you run to baby
Doesn't matter where you try and hide
Sooner or later loneliness is gonna drag you back to my side
There ain't no use in trying
Might as well give up

Because you're mine
