

Lucky Seven

Dr. Feelgood

Waiting on the station for the train to stand in line
Your head is full of summin' and your feet is keeping time
You can't stop moving while you're waiting for that train
Your body's pumpin' boogie and it's reaching to your brain

It's times like that you played your lucky seven
And the seven bought the time right back

Weaving through the alleyways and walking down the streets
Your bones starts shakin there's a rhythm in your feet
Heading for a place where some friends are hanging round
Riding on the yard back to the south side of town

Well it's times like that you played your lucky seven
And the seven bought the time right back

Down into the basement the things were getting hot
The band was getting wound up people boogin' on the spot
High headed honey said 'the lights are getting low'
Take her by the hand she want's to go go go

It's times like that you played your lucky seven
And the seven bought the time right back

Lucky seven
Lucky seven
Lucky seven

Lucky seven time right back
Lucky seven
Lucky seven
Lucky seven
Lucky seven time right back

Lucky seven
Lucky seven
Lucky seven
Lucky seven time right back
