When She Cries

Dr. Hook

No-one knows my lady when she's lonely
No-one sees the fantasies and fears my lady hides
There are those who share her love and laughter
But no-one hears my lady when she cries, but me
No-one hears my lady when she cries

And when she cries it makes you wanna run
And chase the sun and bring it back
To brighten up a corner of her dark and troubled skies
When she cries

You may have seen her lying in your lamplight
And if you've heard her whispered words it comes as no surprise
So be the one she shares her secret smiles with
But send me back my lady when she cries for me
My lady's gonna need me when she cries

And when she cries it makes you wanna run
And chase the sun and bring it back
So bring me back my lady when she cries for me
Cos my lady's gonna need me when she cries
