

Don't you know what I am
I'm a tried and true man
I've got no time to go following you
I've got no faith in the things that you do.

You only live once
And you might die young
Why don't you stop all your running around
Why don't you come back and live on the ground

Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
Saying you're tired or the look in your eye
Won't change my mind
Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
This time it's love and I'll never give up
Til you change your mind

My mind is ringing
Do you think I'm blind
Sometimes I think that my world's falling down
Sometimes I think that you won't be around

Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
Saying you're tired or the look in your eye
Won't change my mind
Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
This time it's love and I'll never give up
Til I change your mind

And every moment that we spend
The world moves closer to a dot
You think our love will never end
And all the things are being clear
By being closer to our hearts
There's just a chance we might be sane

Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
Saying you're tired or the look in your eye
Won't change my mind
Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
This time it's love and I'll never give up
Til I change your mind

Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
Saying you're tired or the look in your eye
Won't change my mind
Cry, cry, stop believing your lies
This time it's love and I'll never give up
Til I change your mind
