How quickly seconds fly
Pendulum in my hands
A mutant
In hopeless desperation
I know that's my last day
The day when my world will be gone

Horizon blends with the sky
Into a black and terrible mass
A mutant

Bloody veins of lightning above Rotten earth flooded with puss Full of lumps of dried magma Where are you, the Almighty!

I hear a hollow rattle Strangers all around Their distorted faces Their throbbing flesh

Eyes burnt out by acid Tumor-speckled skin Waiting For me to become like them

God if you are there In this great dark sea Have mercy on me!

Stinking grease floods the ground Absorbing monstrous mutants The last day!
