hilarious

different

It's typical, another game of push and pull There's nothing wrong, but there is something going on You float away, a little further everyday I'm looking at the stars and you're looking out at empty space

Sometimes, sometimes it comes in the dark Swimming inside your head, sinking into your heart I'm looking for another sign, you'll shake it off your mind Where you been all this time, you kiss different

Hey now, don't be funny
Ha ha, you're acting funny
Come back, where are you gone
This girl thinks you've been somewhere else too long
Where's Mr. Sunny
Hands up, give me the money
And I'm not laughing but this funny stuff is just

Just stop the clock, and look around at what you've got Everyone comes a little undone, but it's better than you thought
Time, times gone ticking by, pinch me I'm still alive, give me just a little smile
Give me a sign, you'll shake it off of your mind
Where you been all this time, baby you've been so

Hey now, don't be funny
Ha ha, you're acting funny
Come back, where are you gone
This girl thinks you've been somewhere else too long
Where's Mr. Sunny
Hands up, give me the money
And I'm not laughing but this funny stuff is just
hilarious

I find myself imagining it sometimes
The two of us on a roller coaster ride
Sooner or later if we run off the track
We'll get it back don't ever doubt it
So why not forget about it

Hey now, don't be funny
Ha ha, you're acting funny
Come back, where are you gone
This girl thinks you've been somewhere else too long
Where's Mr. Sunny
Hands up give me the money
And I'm not laughing but this funny stuff is just
hilarious
