

Foolish Pleasure

Dragonette

I ran out of time
Chasing foolish pleasure
Now I want to over indulge
Blur all the lines
On the edge of my lipstick
And get up high enough to fall

Black sky
Deep dark current
Rip tide
Drag me out with you

One night not to know, not to know
Not to know where I'm going
Some time just to loose myself alone
Bright light underneath I could be anybody
Until I come home

Wait up for the light
On the dark side of sunrise
And watch the sky losing stars
A million miles
From my head to the sidewalk
So I don't feel my feet at all

Black sky
Deep dark current
Rip tide
Drag me out on a wild ride
Toss me around in past life
Ooo take me out with you

One night not to know, not to know
Not to know where I'm going
Some time just to loose myself alone
Bright light underneath I could be anybody
Until I come home

One night not to know
Not to know where I'm going
Some time just to loose myself alone
Bright light underneath I could be anybody
I could be anybody
I could be anybody
Until I come home
