

Sirens

Dragonette

You know I love to see the streetlights fade away
Just before the sunrise
I got the power to turn the night into day
And it takes up all my free time

I enjoy my pleasure with a pinch of regret
[?] please me to death
Every morning after I completely forget
Right out of my bed, morning cigarette

Sirens ring in my head
My friends call me again
I'm back where it began
Morning cigarette
Sirens ring in my head
My friends call me again
I'm back where it began
Morning cigarette

I want the exit but can't see it in the dark
So I give up on trying
Oh honey listen, I got something [?]
And it's more satisfying

And I always take my pleasure with a chaser of pain
Again and again, parading the land
If I'm not getting dry I will stay [?]
Right here in my bed, morning cigarette

Sirens ring in my head
My friends call me again
I'm back where it began
Morning cigarette
Sirens ring in my head
My friends call me again
I'm back where it began
Morning cigarette

I'm back where it began
Morning cigarette
